

Quality & Safety Policy

As a supplier of critical components and assemblies for the aviation and defense industries, it is the policy of PCX Aerostructures to comply with all customer, statutory and regulatory requirements and to never compromise our commitment to safely provide a quality product, on time, to our customers. We expect the same commitment from our subcontractors and other partners. Further, all associates commit to the continual improvement of our quality and safety management systems, processes, procedures, performance objectives, and culture so that we meet or exceed our customers' expectations. Each member of our organization is encouraged to report all known and suspected quality and safety issues without fear of punitive action.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jeff Frisby".

Jeff Frisby
President & CEO